922*
Love token, a convict love token on a Queen Anne shilling of 1707E. Very good/poor and very important.

$160

It is believed that this piece which is engraved on both sides may be connected to John (M) McKinlay who was transported to Australia circa 1848, and his wife Alice (maiden name Bowles) who was also transported to Australia, about 1847. Both were originally from Fermanagh, Ireland, and are said to be buried in Tasmania. The obverse is engraved 'M McKinlay, with 2 hearts'. The reverse has the inscription 'AB' (Alice Bowles?) Part of the portrait of Queen Anne and the date 1707 have also been crudely re-engraved. With this item comes a report from the internet about the family and additional details.

New South Wales, Transportation token, a stipple-engraved Penny [probably 1797], obv. 'Maria/love. when/ this you see/ Remember/ me', within wreath border, rev. 'When I/am far away/Charles/Love/1827', with branches in legend. Good very fine with attractive patination.

$200

Elizabeth Scott, tried at Old Bailey, London on 7 February 1787 on the charge of stealing bridles, straps and stirrups valued at fifteen shillings. She was convicted and sentenced at Middlesex Goal Delivery on 21 February 1787 to Transportation for seven years. She was one of 22 prisoners transported on Prince of Wales to New South Wales. She died on 2 April 1790. With research.

925*
Death of Duke of York 1827, in silver (40 mm) by Faulkner (Eimer 1190). Nearly uncirculated and rare in silver.

$350

Son of King George III, the popular Duke was immortalised in the rhyme 'The grand old Duke of York he had ten thousand men. He marched them up to the top of the hill and he marched them down again'. Married to his cousin Princess Frederica Charlotte of Prussia they had no children. The Duke was however believed to have sired several illegitimate children, among them was Colonel John George Nathaniel Gibbs (1787-1873) who became Collector of Customs for the Colony of New South Wales, Australia 1834-1859 helping to transform Sydney into a large prosperous city, and Captain James Molloy (1788-1867) who became a landowner and pioneer of Augusta in Western Australia.

926*
New South Wales Prize Exhibitors medal, 1862 (London), in gold (76mm) struck in nearly pure gold (23.5ct) (12oz / 365gm) by W.Kullrich, awarded as a special prize by the New South Wales Government for the best spun yarn from NSW grown wool to Joseph Craven of Dole Mill, Thornton, Yorkshire, inscribed on edge 'Joseph Craven. Fabric', probably the largest Australian award medal in gold. In original case, nearly FDC and excessively rare.

$22,500

Ex Spink Australia Sale 3 (lot 106). At the time of the award the French lodged a protest claiming that the Bradford entries of Craven could only have been made in France and had been smuggled across to England. To produce the medal to the specific requirements set down by the N.S.W. Government proved costly and difficult according to newspaper accounts. The cost came to over £200 just to make the medal.

927*
Ballaarat Cricket Club, 1862, handcrafted medal in silver (78mm star shape), a buckled garter imposed on a six pointed star with an early fire engine in high relief being the centrepiece, a fireman's helmet and fire fighting implements in the triangular points of the star which is framed with a fine ornamental border, with loop mount and suspension bar, engraved on obverse 'We Strive To Save', and on reverse 'Presented / to / S.Dempster / by the / Ballaarat Cricket Club / as / Winner / of the / Firemen's Race / 26 Decr 1862'. An interesting and important item of Australiana, extremely fine and very rare.

Ex Spink Australia Sale 29 (lot 2120). The Ballaarat Cricket Club was founded in 1856. The oval was recognised as one of the finest in Australia.  $650

Part excerpt from 'The Sydney Morning Herald' 11 April 1931 'Congregationalism, Its Approaching Centenary' by Frank Walker F.R.A.H.S. 'Those of our denomination in Australia who are looking forward to the centenary of Congregationalism in 1933 will be interested in an illustration of the medal that was struck at the time of the jubilee in 1883, which has only lately come to light. As will be seen, it is of conventional design, the central figure being intended for Moses, the lawgiver. The seven stars surrounding the upper part of the figure represent the six colonies of Australasia and New Zealand, which at that time was included. The bowl of burning incense and palm leaves have a scriptural meaning, but the nature of the plant on the right of the tablet is somewhat obscure.'

$2,500

The accompanying letter reads; 'Dear Sir, The Duke of Cornwall and York desires me to write and tell you how very much he regrets that it is not possible for him to come and shoot with you. His Royal Highness had so much looked forward to a day's sport and to seeing something of the interior of the country. He also wishes me to thank you for all the trouble which you have taken in the matter. He feels sure that you will appreciate the circumstances under which he had to give up what would have been a very pleasant engagement. His Royal Highness is very sorry not to have seen you today and hopes you will accept the cigarette case bearing the badge of the York Rose which he sends you as a souvenir of his visit to Queensland. Yours truly, Arthur Bigge.'

This letter and the accompanying envelope is written on black-bordered paper in mourning for Queen Victoria who had died earlier in the year. It uses the short-lived title, Duke of Cornwall and York that was carried for the remainder of the year when he was created Prince of Wales, (later King George V). Only two weeks prior to the writing of this letter, the Duke had opened Australia's first Commonwealth Parliament in Melbourne. It is possible that the Duke was unable to attend the shoot mentioned in the letter as he had been engaged the previous day laying the foundation stone for St John's Cathedral, Brisbane. Sir Arthur Bigge was principal private secretary to Queen Victoria from 1896 and continued his role with the Prince of Wales and later through his reign as George V. He was created Lord Stamfordham in 1911 and exercised great influence over the King's official life.

The recipient of the letter, John Bligh Nutting was a direct descendant of Captain William Bligh and had been a police Inspector in Queensland since 1867. His obituary of 1927 listed him as an enthusiastic hunter who had maintained his own pack of hounds in Roma. It is this connection to hunting that prompted the gift of the cigarette case and accompanying letter.
