Important document in respect of the Will of General Sir James Willoughby Gordon, 1st Baronet GCB, GCH (21 Oct 1772 - 4 Jan 1851), Baronet Gordon of Northcourt in the Isle of Wight from 1818, was Quartermaster-General to the Forces. Sir James had an impressive military career: He was commissioned in 1783 to 66 Regiment of Foot, appointed Assistant Adjutant General in Ireland in 1795, in 1801 commanded 85 Regiment of Foot in Madeira and in the same year was appointed Deputy Adjutant General in the West Indies. He served as Aide de Camp and Military Secretary to the Duke of Kent before returning to England in 1803 to be appointed Assistant Quartermaster-General and the next year was Military Secretary to Prince Frederick, Duke of York and Albany, the Commander-in-Chief of the Forces. He was Commissary-in-Chief to the Forces from 1809 and appointed Lieutenant General in 1825 and then Quartermaster-General to the Forces from 1811 to 1851 and during this time he was promoted to full General on 23 November 1841. He had two children, a son, Henry Percy Gordon and a daughter, Julia Emily Gordon. Sir James died in 1851 and was buried in the family vault at Knighton on the Isle of Wight.

Macquarie Historical Bill of Exchange

4908*

Bill of Exchange issued by Lachlan MacQuarie's father, handwritten in ink and dated at Ulva 22 Agust (sic) 1767 for £19:10 sh, To Mr William Craige/Senior/Merch: in Belfast, Sir, Two days after sight pay Mr John McDugale Merch; in Campbelltown or Order within your office The sum of Ninteen (sic) pounds Ten sh British for value in Cash received, which place to the Acct: of----- Sir/Your Hule:Sevt (Humble Servant)/ Lach:MacQuarie, and on the reverse top right corner is written, 'McQuarys (sic)/Draught (British variant of Draft)/in favour/of/W McDugale'. With folds and a few small stains on reverse but in excellent condition for its age, good very fine and very rare.

$10,000

A rare bill of exchange written and signed by Lachlan MacQuarie of Ulva, a small island off the coast of the island of Mull in the Inner Hebrides, a chain of islands off the west coast of Scotland. He is the father of Lachlan Macquarie (note that his son records his name in the Anglicised spelling as Macquarie, also a Gaelic version of the name is MacGuairre ), governor of New South Wales (1 January 1810 - 30 November 1821). Lachlan MacQuarie (1715-c1775), a carpenter by trade, was a cousin of the sixteenth and last clan chief of the MacQuaries of Ulva and his wife, (Governor Lachlan Macquarie's mother), was the only sister of Murdoch Maclaine, 19th Laird of Lochbuy, Mull.

Recently the Scottish government stopped the sale of the island of Ulva. It only has five residents and is barren and windswept but locals from the island of Mull have been given a grant to buy and redevelop it for tourism while maintaining its historic links to Major General Lachlan Macquarie, Governor of New South Wales, who in 1817 became the first person to use the name 'Australia' in an official document.

Macquarie was born at Ormaig on Ulva on 31 January 1762 but his family moved to a small farm at Oskamull on the Isle of Mull in 1772. His father, Lachlan senior, died in c1775 when he was fourteen and young Lachlan then volunteered for army service and went on to forge a distinguished career in the British army. His first wife, Jane Jarvis daughter of the Chief Justice of Antigua, died of tuberculosis in 1796. In November 1807 he married his cousin, Elizabeth Campbell and bought a property at Mull and while he was away she started renovating it as they intended to live there after he retired in 1821. They did so in 1824 for a short time but unfortunately while on business in London in that same year he was taken sick and died. He and his wife and their two children, Jane and Lachlan, are buried in a mausoleum on Mull at a site maintained by the National Trust of Australia and at this site he is described as 'The Father of Australia'. There are also many areas, streets, buildings and other sites particularly in Australia bearing the Macquarie name in his honour.

Lachlan MacQuarie senior, the father of 'The Father of Australia', is buried on Ulva at the cemetery at Kilvickewen.

The Van Diemen's Land Company is a farming corporation in the Australian state of Tasmania which was founded in 1825 in England. The company entered into agricultural and pastoral pursuits on land they rented from the government. They established their headquarters at Circular Head and agricultural settlements at Woolnorth, Emu Bay, Hampshire Hills, Surrey Hills and also Circular Head. They introduced pure strains of sheep, cattle and horses; built bridges and constructed roads; surveyed and opened roads along the coast and inland from Emu Bay through the Surrey Hills and Middlesex Plains to Chudleigh; erected jetties; imported immigrants, implements and seeds; fostered commerce with Australian ports and contributed greatly to the early development of Tasmania. In 2016 there was great controversy over the sale of this historic company, now Australia's largest dairy firm, to a Chinese company, Moon Lake Investments.

Ex T.J.Davidson Collection.

G & R Sutherland operated a trading store. The partnership between George & Robert Sutherland was dissolved by mutual consent on 31 May 1837 and thereafter the store operated under the name of George Sutherland but Robert Sutherland was authorised to collect all debts due to the firm and to settle all accounts against them.

George Meredith served as a Lieutenant in the Royal Marines and at Alexandra in 1803, after the defeat of Napoleon's forces he made a daring ascent of the 55 metre high Pompey's Pillar to replace the French cap-of-liberty with the Union Jack. Later he decided to leave England and became a colonist farmer to Van Diemen's Land arriving at Hobart Town on 13 March 1821. Meredith had a difficult relationship with Lt-Governor George Arthur and suffered shocking mistreatment under Arthur. This was publicised in the local press which greatly praised Mr Meredith who 'has done his duty to himself and his adopted country by thus exposing the acts of misrule of the Governor'.

Arnott's Famous Biscuits, card advertising fan, c1930s-40s, in thick board (approx 20.8x27.7cm), front with the famous Arnott's multicoloured parrot eating a biscuit and the back features life-size images of five types of biscuits. Some loss of board at top of fan handle, a few creases and scuffing around edge and some age toning, otherwise fine.

$70

It is believed that the parrot was originally drawn in 1888 by Leslie Arnott, daughter-in-law of the company founder, William Arnott, and although some may think it is based on an Australian bird it is thought that the model used was a Mexican parrot given to William Arnott by the Captain of a Newcastle coal ship. The above advertising fan was believed to have been distributed through Easter show bags.

Qantas travel poster for Japan, c1960, features a large, colourful rooster right on a yellow background, with a Boeing 707 passenger jet in flight at top right and at the bottom is an indication of Qantas' association at the time with B.O.A.C., TEAL and S.A.A. (small version, size approx 38x50cm). Some toning and spots at top right corner, some creases, mounting pin-holes in each corner otherwise very fine and scarce.

This poster was designed by Harry Rogers, an Australian poster artist and graphic designer who worked for Qantas from the early 1950s through to 1985. The rooster has been featured in the design as it is an important element in Japanese mythology and Shinto religion and is usually associated with the sun and solar Japanese deities, which makes it the perfect image for a poster promoting Japan, the Land of the Rising Sun.

Together with newspaper articles on the German born, naturalised Australian Dr Max Herz, an acclaimed orthopaedic surgeon and his disgraceful treatment by the Sydney branch of the British Medical Association (BMA) and the Australian government when World War I broke out with Germany. He was interned at Trial Bay Jail north of Kempsey and later at Liverpool Camp and when war ended the BMA requested that he be deported which delayed his release from the internment camp until eighteen months after the Armistice had been signed. After his release he set up his own hospital at Rushcutter's Bay in Sydney and never rejoined the BMA.
