William Neilly was born on 05Feb1791 at Carrickfergus, County Antrim, Ireland. He joined the army in 1808 and was commissioned an ensign on 21Apr1809 in the 40th Regiment (known as the Fighting Fortieth). His unit left Ireland in May 1811 to join the 1st Battalion in Portugal to fight in the army under control of the Duke of Wellington. William served in many battles throughout the Peninsular War and received the Military General Service Medal with nine clasps - Ciudad Rodrigo, Badajoz, Salamanca, Vittorio, Pyrenees, Nivelle, Nive, Orthes, Toulouse. On 26Sep1811 he was appointed Lieutenant and was assigned a civilian servant.

The 40th marched to Bordeaux and then sailed for Cork, Ireland on the ship 'Sultan'. On 08Oct1814 the unit set off for New Orleans however one of the transports was wrecked so the force returned to Ireland setting sail again about a month later finally arriving at New Orleans via Barbados. The weather was bad so disembarkation was going to be difficult. During this period there had been a disastrous attack on New Orleans in which the British commanding officer and his second in charge were killed so orders were given for the 40th to return to England, arriving via Havana to Portsmouth in May1815. The unit was immediately transported to Ostend, Belgium and then it marched from Ghent on 16Jun1815 reaching Waterloo on 18Jun1815.

Lieutenant William Neilly was in Captain J.Lowry's Company which went into action at once at the crossroads by the farm of Mont St Jean. In a reference to the 1st Battalion at the historic battle the 40th Regimental unit history states, 'In this famous battle the battalion nobly maintained its high reputation, and stood like a rock against the pitiless iron storm, and the fierce assaults of Napoleon's horse and foot, till the time came when Lord Wellington, hat in hand, led forward the advances which, once and for all, swept the army of Napoleon from the Battlefield.' Following the battle, William was present at the Occupation of Paris and then the unit moved to Cambrai where he received his Waterloo Medal. After Waterloo, the 40th moved to Athlone, County Westmeath, Ireland. In November1821 Lieutenant Neilly was appointed Adjutant (dated 06/12/1821 LG page 2422 and 06/11/1821 Edinburgh Gazette 18-21/12/1821, page 2971). It was here, on 04Feb1823, one day before his 32nd birthday, that he married Jeanette Maria Higgins, from an army family as her brothers, John and Matthew, were both officers in the 7th Fusiliers. The next year William and his wife embarked on 14Jun1824 bound for Australia on the convict ship, Princess Charlotte, with William in command of a guard furnished by the 40th Regiment. The convoy of twelve ships travelled via Rio de Janeiro arriving on 09Nov1824 at Hobart Town, Van Diemens Land where the convicts were disembarked before proceeding to Sydney which they reached on 01Dec1824.

Lieutenant Neilly and his wife returned to Hobart Town on 07Feb1826 in the ship, Laine. On 16Apr1828, under Government Order No.21, he was appointed Ordnance Storekeeper to have charge of the General Stores of the Colony. Then on 21Nov1828 he was appointed a Captain of Infantry without purchase and placed on the unattached list shortly before the 40th Regiment transferred to India. The unit was later to return to Australia in 1852 remaining until 1860. It had units in South Australia, Western Australia and the main body in Victoria where they suppressed the Eureka Rebellion of 1854.

In August 1831 William was appointed to the 63rd Regiment. In 1834 he retired and settled the family on his grant of land of 407 acres on the east bank of the Tamar River. He was also entitled to purchase 2,560 acres of land in the area at two pence per acre as he had spent 26 years in the army. His house on the property was built of bricks made locally by convicts and the building was constructed with the help of convict labour. He called the house 'Rostella' which was the name of the family house in Ireland where his wife Jeanette was raised. For the rest of his life William raised sheep, managed the family property and also served the community as a Commissioner of the Peace. He was appointed to this role by Government Notice No.214, 16Nov1837. He was also deeply involved in the local church, St Matthias Anglican Church at Windermere. He was a friend of De Matthias Gaunt who built the church in 1842 and as such William was a liberal subscriber to the construction of the church building and for many years he served as a church warden.

William and his wife had eight children, six girls and two boys, all born in Tasmania, with the last four born at the family home, Rostella. William Neilly died at his home 'Rostella' near Launceston on 05Feb1864, his 73rd birthday. He is buried in a family grave at Windermere church yard cemetery, Dilston, Tasmania. His coffin was carried by four convict servants; one had been with him for twenty years and another for twenty five years. The marble headstone is much weathered however the inscription reads, 'Sacred to the memory of William Neilly Esq J.P. formerly Captain of H.M. X.L.th and LX 3rd regiments who departed this life at Rostella 5th Feb. 1864 A.D. aged 74 years. Also his wife Jeanette Neilly who died at Brighton Victoria 7th Sep. 1881 aged 73 years. Also Emma Louise 4th daughter of the above who departed this life 8th June 1854 A.D. in her 20th year. Henry Neilly of Rostella born 21st February 1841 died 15th March 1870. Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God. Blessed are they who die in the Lord.'

With research including A4 size colour photos of his grave, headstone and the picturesque church graveyard.

On one occasion, when the division on the right were out of touch, he collected about fifty men out of a wood and pushed them forward to the final objective. Armed with a Lewis gun, he moved quickly from point to point and dealt with enemy machine-gun posts most effectively on several occasions. At the final objective, when all the officers but the company commander and all the senior N.C.O.'s had become casualties, he took over the duties of C.S.M., and was of the most valuable assistance to his company commander. Recommendation: 'During the operations of 4/6th October 1917, east of Ypres this NCO did magnificent work with the Battalion transport. Everyday the pack train was heavily shelled and it was entirely due to his coolness and prompt action that the pack animals were brought through the hostile barrage. On one occasion when some of the animals were wounded he was instrumental in clearing the road and thus averting a dangerous congestion of traffic. The success of the battalion supply system is largely due to his untiring efforts.'

BEM: Supplement to LG 1/1/65, p40, New Year's Honours 1 January 1965 to Sergeant Raymond Harvey, RAASC.

Citation: 'Sergeant Raymond Harvey enlisted in the Australian Regular Army in 1953. He has distinguished himself for his service in air despatching duties. He has served in this capacity whilst in Malaya and has instructed on this subject at the Royal Australian Army Service Corps Centre. He is currently serving with 40th Air Supply Platoon. He became a member of 39th Air Supply Platoon when it was raised and very quickly displayed such knowledge of all facets of the work of the unit that he became recognised as an authority on air despatching procedures and operations. When the second section of the unit was raised (although remaining in the number one section) he selflessly offered his services and assumed technical control. These two sections have now been absorbed and form the basis of his present unit. His experience gained from flying some 500 hours on 291 supply dropping sorties, 68 of which were on operations in Malaya, has been imparted with the skill and enthusiasm attained as an instructor at the Royal Australian Service Corps Centre, to all personnel of his unit. This has most certainly been a major factor in the present high standard of efficiency and preparedness for operations of 40th Air Supply Platoon. His enthusiasm, knowledge and ability in his military duties are outstanding and this excellent Non-Commissioned officer has worked beyond the normal call of duty and assumed responsibility far in excess of his rank.'

The time and effort which he devoted to this assignment reflect great credit upon his enthusiastic devotion to duty and are in keeping with the best tradition of the Australian Military Forces. Royal Victorian Order (5th Class) MVO: New Years Honours List published in London Gazette 1 January 1952 to Squadron Leader H A Nash, AFC.

AFC: New Years Honours List published in London Gazette 1 January 1945 to Flt Lt H A Nash, RAF on loan to RNZAF.

Citation: A thoroughly efficient and sound captain of transport aircraft with a particularly high sense of duty and a fine record of reliability. Flight Lieutenant Nash has over 3,500 hours to his credit, including 970 hours in the last nine months, and 400 hours between 1st April and 31st June, 1944. Joining the Royal Air Force as an aircraft apprentice in 1925, he was mustered in a technical trade but later qualified as a pilot, and served in India and Egypt. In Britain he reverted to his basic trade and in 1939 was seconded to the Royal New Zealand Air Force for engineering duties. Flight Lieutenant Nash returned to full flying duties in 1941, being commissioned that year, and after serving with a bomber reconnaissance squadron, became chief instructor on Walrus flying boats of the Seaplane Training Flight. An outstanding rescue was effected by Flight Lieutenant Nash in September, 1943, when he landed in the open sea to pick up four members of the crew of an aircraft that had been forced down*. Due to the excessive load and rough seas, he was unable to take off after five attempts, and so taxied 38 miles to the lee of an island where he finally took off after five hours on the water. Throughout his career, Flight Lieutenant Nash has displayed similar qualities of devotion to duty and loyalty to the Service.

(* Anson NZ401, ditched 48 miles west of Albatross Point on the afternoon of 28Sep1943, rescue effected the following day.)

Horace Alexander Nash, born 11May1910 at Hendon, Middlesex, England, the son of Army Captain Thomas Alexander Nash; joined RAF as an aircraft apprentice in 1925; 1932 completed a pilot's course; 1936 at School of Naval Co-operation at Lee-on-Solent; 02May1936 married at Gosport, England to an Australian woman from Chatswood, NSW, Ivy Clarissa Cains, daughter of John Courtney Cains, water engineer; Oct1939 - 1945 on loan to RNZAF; Jul1940 Warrant Officer; Aug1940 resumed practice flying; 04Oct1941 emergency commission as Pilot Officer, RAF General Duties Branch; 01Oct1941 Flying Officer; 01Oct1943 Flight Lieutenant; 08May1947 extended service commission; 01Jul1948 Squadron Leader; 1948 appointed pilot to the King's Flight for Royal Tour of Australia and New Zealand; 12Jan1949 permanent commission; Dec1950 - Oct1951 Commanding Officer, 24 (Commonwealth) Squadron RAF; New Year 1952 piloted Princess Margaret to Italy, Princess Elizabeth to Malta and the Queen to Ireland; retired 08May1957; died at Auckland 08Sep1982.

When Flight Lieutenant Nash was awarded the Air Force Cross he was attached to 40 Squadron, RNZAF at Whenuapai however, before the investiture could take place, he was transferred back to England. After his return to England, Nash felt lost as he now regarded New Zealand, the birthplace of his two daughters, to be home. Thus when a Royal Tour by King George VI to Australia and New Zealand was announced in 1948, arrangements were made for the King to make the presentation of the medal during the Royal Tour to now Squadron Leader Nash as he was the King's pilot. However, before the tour started the King fell ill and it was cancelled. Squadron Leader Nash retired to New Zealand without ever being presented with his AFC. Then, in 1975 while attending a reunion of the General Reconnaissance Squadron, it was mentioned to Sir Denis Blundell, Governor-General of New Zealand, that Mr Nash was long overdue for his AFC. Upon hearing this, the Governor General then made arrangements to rectify the oversight and on 13 November 1975 he presented Squadron Leader H.A.Nash, MVO, AFC with his medal at an Investiture at Government House, Wellington, New Zealand.

George Ford Bond and his son Bert had set up Bond's Bus Tours at Clare in 1910. A year later, four new Fords were purchased and the business was very successful. It seems plans were made to establish Bond's Motor Car Company but apparently it was not successful, possibly due to the outbreak of WWI.
